

Domingos H.G. Bulus
President, Praxair South America
President, White Martins Gases Industriais Ltda.

Domingos Bulus was named president of Praxair South America in 2003, responsible for Praxair's business in nine countries.

Bulus joined Praxair's Brazil-based subsidiary, White Martins, in 1984 as a production engineer, and subsequently held supervisory and managerial positions in the industrial gases applications group. In 1990 he was named manager of the Belo Horizonte region in Brazil, and two years later became manager of the Brazilian central region. In 1995 he became general manager in Colombia, and the following year was named executive director of the Andean Treaty region (Bolivia, Colombia, Peru and Venezuela). He moved to Singapore as president of Praxair Asia in 2001.

A native of Brazil, Bulus earned a mechanical engineering degree from Gama Filho University, Rio de Janeiro, and a master's degree in human resources from Amana Key, Sao Paulo.

Praxair is the largest industrial gases company in North and South America, and one of the largest worldwide, with 2009 sales of $9 billion. The company produces, sells and distributes atmospheric, process and specialty gases, and high-performance surface coatings. Praxair products, services and technologies bring productivity and environmental benefits to a wide variety of industries, including aerospace, chemicals, food and beverage, electronics, energy, healthcare, manufacturing, metals and others. More information on Praxair is available on the Internet at www.praxair.com.

###